

Twelve Plait Eye Splice

Step 8: From where the strand pair exits, go OVER one standing strand and UNDER two, following the line of picks closest to where it came out.

Step 9: Do it again, making sure you're following one line of picks. This splice doesn't rotate around the rope, but follows straight lines.

Step 10: Make a couple or three tucks with the first strand pair, just to get it out of the way so you can see for starting the others.

Step 11: Dive a fid in where the first strand pair entered, and exit at the line of picks next to where the first strand pair was tucked.
